Langhorne Council Re-Enacts Levy Of $10 Per Capita

LANGHORNE, Sept. 4—Borough Council last night passed a resolution re-enacting the per capita tax ordinance which levies a $10 tax on each person over 21 years of age.

The tax ordinance has been in effect since 1949, but under a new State statute effective Sept. 1, local governing bodies are required to re-enact taxes levied under Bill 481. This bill permits local governments to tax almost anything, Council Secretary William J. Palmer said.

Police Chief William E. Arnwine sounded a warning to property owners who have permitted weeds to grow unchecked. The chief will make a survey this weekend of weedy empty lots and set borough crews to cutting them if the property owner fails to take action. The offending property owner faces a $10 fine under a borough ordinance on the matter, the chief said.

Commissioners Veto Proposed Zoning Change

See Langenfelder Stymied on Pike As Result of Vote

EMILIE, Sept. 4—C. J. Langenfelder, Inc., road construction firm of Baltimore, under contract to the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission for the construction of a section of the super highway in Bucks County, may not be able to fulfill its contract as the result of the refusal last night of the Bristol Township Commissioners to approve a zoning reclassification from R-1 residential to M-2 heavy industrial.

The Langenfelder firm had proposed to purchase the Joseph Schwartz Farm on Oxford Valley road near Margo Gardens to provide fill-in material for the highway.

An overflow crowd was at the meeting last night which began at 7:30 p .m. in the Bristol Township police building.

A petition condemning the change in classification signed by 100 residents of Bristol Township was read to the group by Elwood Britton, secretary of the Township Board of Commissioners.

Executive Session

Following the reading, the commissioners, Oscar A. Booz, President George Sottung, Fred and Frank Hibbs, and Eugene Stutz retired in executive session for 15 minutes to debate the pro and con of the situation.

They filed into the meeting room after their separate session and announced they would not support a zoning reclassification.

The rezoning would have affected a 45-acre tract in Bristol Township bounded on the east by Mill Creek, on the south by Magnolia road, on the west by Oxford Valley road, and on the north by a dia-

Tullytown to Vote On Sunday Films

TULLYTOWN, Sept. 4—Referendum on the Sunday movie question here will be held in the November general election. A petition signed by some 160 voters to place that matter on the ballot was filed with the County Board of Elections in Doylestown.

It will be the first referendum on the question in this borough, according to Nicholas Eberle, president of Borough Council. Circulation of the petition was in charge of Attorney Paul Beckert of Levittown.

This community has no movie house, but negotiations are underway between a movie house operator and Levitt and Sons, Inc., for construction of one in Levittown's main shopping center.

Heat Wave Takes Heavy Crop Toll, Disaster Possible

DOYLESTOWN, Sept. 4 — The prolonged heat wave is taking a heavy toll of Bucks County produce and forage crops and if the scorching weather continues unabated for another week, the loss may reach disaster proportions, according to Paul Rothrock, assistant county agent.

Effect of the heat wave is noticeable in pastures where growth is practically at a standstill, Rothrock said. Farmers have been forced to feed reserve corn stock and silage stored for the winter to their cattle. Milk production has fallen off slightly, Rothrock said.

Late feed corn crops are pretty well dried up as are soybean crops. Tomatoes are ripening so fast that the harvest season will be shortened considerably as a result, according to Rothrock. Ordinarily the harvest lasts through September.

Peaches are ripening too rapidly and as a result are smaller than they would be under normal ripening conditions.

Fred Watts, manager of the King Farms in Lower Bucks County, said the prolonged heat is unfavorable for germination of fall spinach sprouts. Some 900 acres were put into the farm's crop he said. Even spinach placed under irrigation is suffering.

Whole fields of beans have been lost, Watts said. The damage in dollars cannot be determined yet, Watts stated, because some vegetable crops may yet be retrieved.

Army Holds Off On Application To Dredge River

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 4 — Col. Walter Krueger, Jr., district engineer of the U. S. Army Engineers announced today that no action had been taken on the application of Construction Aggregates Corp. for a permit to dredge material for fill purposes from the Delaware river along Enterprize and Mud ranges near Delanco, N. J.

According to Krueger the engineers are waiting to hear what action the sate of New Jersey will take. The area involved is outside the channel proper and actually belongs to New Jersey, Krueger stressed that the engineers are concerned primarily with how the dredging will affect navigation.

The original date for the decision by the engineers was set for Sept. 2. The permit will not be issued until the Army has the recommendations of the state.

Cleanup, Ventilate Attics, Chief Warns

Following the fatal fire Wednesday night in which George Bennett was burned to death fighting the flames at his mother-in-law's home, Bristol Fire Chief Clifford Hagerman warned borough residents that the current heat wave is making fire traps in their attics.

The fire chief said the blaze which took Bennett's life, at 1511 Farragut avenue, was caused by spontaneous combustion in the attic.

Chief Hagerman urged Bristolians to ventilate their attics, and remove old papers, clothing and other inflammable objects. With the influx of population into Bristol making a demand for extra sleeping rooms, the chief said, many homeowners have moved old furniture and other articles upstaris to their attics, storing them in tight, unventilated places.

KEEP COOL

PENNDEL, Sept. 4 — Penndel borough councilmen decided last evening they would postpone their September meeting to the 10th, and spend the humid evening keeping as cool as possible.

Relief Forecast As Heat Wave Enters 11th Day

Lower Bucks Countians will have to sweat through another day, but the prospect is that the long heat wave entering its 11th day is due for an upset.

The weatherman said there will be a few scattered showers late this afternoon with temperatures of 70 to 75 for tonight. Tomorrow will be "not as warm" and there will be more scattered showers and thunderstorms.

A five-day weather forecast supplied by Weatherman William Cooper of Trenton, N. J., lists cooler weather for the week-end and more scattered shows Monday with little change in the coolness thereafter.

Trenton Cooled

Trentonians across the river received a preview of the changing weather with a violent hailstorm last night, but Lower Bucks County remained parched.

No serious water shortages have developed in the Bristol area, but pumps drawing from area wells have been working extra hard to supply the water demand. However, unless the weather breaks emergency procedures for water consumption will have to be enforced for Langhorne, Langhorne Manor, Parkland, Penndel and Hulmeville,

Indian Dancers To Entertain At Pennsbury High

LOWER MAKEFIELD TWP., Sept. 4—The Munsee Indian Dancers, of Allentown Explorer Post, No. 222, will on Sept. 8 and 9 at 7:45 p. m. in Pennsbury High School, present tribal dances of the American Indian, his chanting music, and his vivid dress.

Sponsoring the affair will be Order of the Arrow group of Bucks County Council, Boy Scouts of America.

Since five years ago when they began with three members, the Munsee Indian Dancers have now grown to a sizeable group of 31 and have appeared with such famous people and acts as Morton Downey, Miss America, Ringling Brothers Circus, and the Pennsylvania State Police Rodeo.

It all started in 1948 when one Scout and two Scout leaders decided to make their own costumes for a regional meeting of a Scouting honor society. The Order of the Arrow, being held at Camp Trexler.

The Order of the Arrow is a lodge of campers within the Scouting program. Unlike other lodges and orders, the members in the Orders do not choose their own brothers. New members are voted in by all Scouts in a unit including those boys who aren't members, and who know nothing of the Order except that it is an honor group.

Tickets for the show are available from Scouts of Bucks County. Proceeds of these performances will be used for benefit of the Order of the Arrow. Each troop selling tickets also profits from the ticket sales.

Bucks Judge To Tour Plant Hit as Nuisance

DOYLESTOWN, Sept. 4 — Final arguments were heard yesterday in a three-day hearing in the injunction proceedings of 13 residents of Upper Southampton Township seeking to restrain the construction of a batch cement plant by James D. Morrissey, Philadelphia contractor, in the township.

Judge Edwin H. Satterthwaite announced to the court in equity in which he sat as chancellor that he would make a personal inspection of Morrissey's Torresdale plant.

Testimony yesterday was divided between 11 witnesses who testified the Torresdale plant was not a noise and dust nuisance. Others, however, also living near the Torresdale plant, took the view that the dust stirred up by the trucks going to and from the plant caused them to keep their windows shut.

One witness said the clanking and rumbling of the huge trucks made homes shake.

Judge Satterthwaite, who didn't set a date for his inspection, said he would be accompanied by William L. Goldman and William R. Cameron, counsel for the complainants and Arthur M. Eastburn, Jr., Morrissey counsel.

Lacks Zoning

Eastburn's argument yesterday emphasized that Upper Southampton had no zoning code and that although an ordinance restricting certain types of industry had been adopted, the restriction did not cover a cement batch plant.

Morrissey contends it would be impossible for him to fulfill his committments for construction of a 15-mile stretch of highway for the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission without the facilities of the

Tullytown Board Approves Teachers, Schedules Rally

TULLYTOWN, Sept. 4 — The School Board last night in a short meeting hired Mrs. Jeanne Johnson Reider of Delaware, Ohio, to teach second grade at the Main Street School. She is a graduate of Ohio Wesleyan University and did graduate work at Ohio State University. She majored in elementary education, art and speech.

Mrs. Mildred Durham of 25 Mallow lane, Levittown, was hired as secretary to School Supervisor John S. Linscott, Jr. She will work in the supervisor's office in the William Heidrich residence, Main street.

A community meeting to discuss the proposed Walt Disney School in the Lakeside drive section of Levittown was tentatively set for Sept. 21 in the fire house.

Negotiations are underway between the School Board and the State Department of Public Instruction for approval of preliminary plans for the school, Linscott said.

Police Track Down Hit-Run Driver

YARDLEY, Sept. 4 — A Woodbourne driver, tracked down after an accident at Main and Afton streets last night, was held under bail by Justice of the Peace Fred A. Bebbington last night, pending a hearing on hit-run and reckless driving charges.

Officer Frank Morgan, of borough police apprehended the Woodbourne man, William Bernard, at 10 p. m., two hours after his car collided with one operated by Herbert Melton, of Yardley.

Driving north on Main street, Bernard turned left into Afton, striking Melton's car, which was stopped for a red light, the officer said.

The two cars were stuck for a brief period, Morgan said, and then Bernard freed his vehicle and sped from the scene. Bernard was identified by witnesses who saw the accident. Each vehicle received $150 damage, the officer said.

Twp. School Board Answers Mothers, Promises To Act

Plane Cutback Fails To Affect Kaiser Plant

Air Force announcement that it is reducing its production program by 965 aircraft will apparently not affect the Kaiser Metal Parts, Inc., airplane section production here.

Spokesman for the Kaiser firm pointed out the air force cutback is actually a revised estimate of requirements.

Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson said the reduction would mostly affect planes to be built two years from now.

Reduction

The reduction involves about $750,000,000 worth of planes. But the cutback would not materially affect American air power, the Air Force said.

In St. Louis, where Wilson addressed the American Legion convention, he said the jet engine program is being reviewed with a similar cutback in prospect.

Saves Money

Some of the money saved may be invested in other types of aircraft this year, defense officials indicated. Wilson said the changes were being made so "we can spend money for the right thing at the right time."

Industry officials predicted the cutback would not have a serious effect at the plants involved and that there would be no mass layoffs.

Mother Superior Improves Steadily

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 4 — The condition of Mother Superior Mary Edmond, of Our Lady of Grace parish, Penndel, "is improving steadily" according to a report yesterday by spokesmen of the Misericordia Hospital, here.

Mother Edmond was rushed to the hospital last Wednesday by the Trevose Heights Rescue Squad following a cerebral hemorrhage attack. Her age is 62.

Extra Registration Urged by Democrats

LEVITTOWN, Sept. 4—Levittown Democratic Club members were urged last night to aid in circulating petitions requesting the Bucks County Commissioners to designate extra registration days for the area.

The appeal was made by Charles Tetlow, chairman of the Lower Bucks County Democratic Committee in a speech at a meeting of the club at the Tullytown fire station.

Tetlow said many persons had been unable to register. Aug. 25 was the last day traveling registrars sat in the county. Persons who haven't registered as yet must go to Doylestown to do so.

Tetlow praised Patrick Brennan, club president for his work in organizing the group.

Wife Slashes Self In Domestic Fight

A Bristol housewife who cut herself with a razor blade last night, said she did it to scare her husband after a domestic quarrel. She required treatment at Bristol General Hospital.

Bristol Police Officers William Bolton and Matthew Bragg said they were called to the home of George Delia, 609 Pond street, after 9 p. m. by neighbors who reported that Delia's wife, Rose, 19, was slashing her arms and legs after the two had quarreled. The officers took her to the hospital. Following treatment, Mrs. Delia was taken home by her husband.

Group Will Meet School Authority To Discuss Plan

BRISTOL TWP., Sept. 4 — Bristol Township School Board, answering a petition presented by more than 50 mothers of the Township Parents Association, promised last night "a school system here which will be the envy of Bucks County."

The board announced that it would meet with reprsentatives of the school authority, the board's financial advisors, and members of the present group in the near future.

Answering the five-point petition presented by the Parents Association, President J. Russell Straub promised "complete cooperation with you or any other group in the interest of more and better schools."

The board told the mothers that, although it has received preliminary approval from the state on future school plans, it has reached the limit of its borrowing capacity, which is based on actual taxes received, and cannot borrow more "until we have a greater tax assessment."

Straub explained that the Board has continually requested an equalization of the township tax structure, and that actual reassessments are taking shape now.

No Guarantee

He said that the state approval received only guarantees the Board the right to continue planning for certain new schools, but doesn't guarantee the necessary expenditures for the buildings.

On the subject of kindergartens, Walter D. Miller, regional director, told the Association that he was against setting up a kindergarten program which would take in only certain parts of the Township and disregard others.

Henry Lotto, speaking for the Association, previously told the Board that his group was composed entirely of Levittowners "although we welcome members from any part of the Township."

The group has asked for completion of a wing on the new John Fitch school by November, and was told that strikes had already put the completion date far behind schedule. Miller said that the contractors "could, conceivably, take until February to finish the job."

A suggestion for six-month semesters, with new terms for children beginning in February was vehemently opposed by the board, which said they wouldn't back the proposal on the grounds of its being "unnecessary."

Also demanded in the petition was the beginning of construction on two new Levittown elementary schools and one secondary school in the future, and the inclusion of

Damaged Vehicle Remains Lodged In Wall of Inn

RICHBORO, Sept. 4 — A bus lodged in the front wall of the historic Spread Eagle Inn here in an accident yesterday remained there this morning, with the Inn owners fearing that its removal might cause part of the old building to collapse.

A Reading Transportation Lines bus, operated by Henry Carlsen, of 4901 Unruh street, Philadelphia, crashed into the wall after skidding on a wet pavement, while he was driving down Second Street pike. The bus was left in place until heavy beams could be put up to support the damaged structure.

Carlsen suffered a fractured left arm in the crash, and was taken to Abington Hospital in the Trevose Heights Rescue Squad ambulance. There were no passengers in the bus.

At the hotel this morning a spokesman said the bus remained lodged in the wall, but would give no further information.

"strong penalty clauses" for the contractor.

Plans Made

Straub said that plans had been made for three Levittown elementary schools and one secondary school, and that sites are available for all four, but that "too strong a penalty clause is out." He said the Board is obliged by law to accept the lowest, qualified bidder on a construction job, and cannot "shop around and bargain" with contractors for the job.

Last on the list of demands outlined was one for the establishment of single sessions by September, 1954. The Board said that if this were feasible at the time "it would most certainly be done."

With few exceptions, the meeting of the two factions was harmonious and without uprising.

Straub said at the beginning of the meeting that he had anticipated the arrival of the group, and welcomed them. Secretary Clarence Young introduced the board members.

Welcomes Return

At the conclusion of the presentation of the petition, Straub again emphasized the board's attitude toward the association, and welcomed them to return "at any time."

He then promised that he would get a meeting called between the association, the board, the school authority and financial advisors to analyze the problem and work out a solution.

Young said that condemnation proceedings against a tract of Levitt-owned ground "are still actually in effect," but that an agreement of sale was being discussed and proceedings would be lifted shortly.

President Straub postponed other regular business which was to have been brought before the board because of the time-consuming petition presentation, and a meeting was scheduled for September 9 to finish the business of the month.

new plant he planned to erect on eight acres in the township.

Spur Built

A representative of the Pennsylvania Railroad has testified the railroad has already built a spur line to the plant.

Warren M. Cornell, a Hatboro real estate broker called by counsel for the plaintiffs admitted the plant would cause a depreciation in value of the homes of the complainants.

He cited noise, dust and a lack of safety for children as the three factors that would contribute to shrinking value.

William D. Galbach, Morrissey roadwork estimator, said the firm would have to pay a penalty of $1200 for each day the work on the 15-mile stretch of road, scheduled to run between Welsh road and Neshaminy Creek, is not done according to a time-table requiring completion by Aug. 1, 1954.

Commissioners

gonal line from Oxford Valley road to Mill Creek marking the boundary of property owned by the Rex Engineering Corp.

The reclassification was sought to permit the legal entry of heavy industry within the confines of the tract, though partisans of the measure previously explained no such immediate change would result from the reclassification.

They said the primary reason a change was sought was to permit the expansion of existing light industry in the area.

John Packard, chairman of the Bristol Township Zoning Board, said until now a lack of rezoning has permitted the presence of light industry on a "non-conforming basis."

Light Industries

Under the R-1 zoning status which the action of the commissioners last night will perpetuate, light industries are permitted to expand up to 50 percent of existing plant and equipment, but not beyond that figure. At the same time, new light industry was not permitted to enter the area.

Reclassification would have wiped out the 50-per-cent limitation and permitted the entrance of new industry on an unlimited basis.

In view of the fact that notice of the intention to seek reclassification first appeared several weeks ago in a legal announcement drawn up at the behest of the township board of commissioners by Bristol Township Solicitor Robert K. Baker, last night's action was seen as a complete about-face in the position of the board.

Opponents of the change have been vociferous in their antagonism to the measure. Their campaign was climaxed by the signed petition they presented at the zoning hearing last night.

Complaints by members of the press were voiced today on the difficulties the Board of Commissioners have thrown in the path of their attempts to report news arising out of Board of Commissioners action.

Members of the Board of Commissioners, approached for news, either refused to make the news available on the plea they would be criticized for usurping prerogatives of George Sottung, recently appointed public relations director of the board.

Hospital Releases Injured Firemen

The two Bristol firemen injured in Wednesday night's fire in a Farragut avenue attic were released yesterday from Bristol General Hospital.

William Brown, 127 Jefferson avenue, was overcome by smoke and was treated for superficial burns of the eyelids and a lacerated finger. Charles Schrader, 246 Cleveland street, was treated for mild shock, hysteria and pulmonary congestion. Both men are from Fire Company 2.

Church To Observe Anthem Holiday

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 4 — In "The Nation's Church" — Christ Church, Second street above Market, a special patriotic service will be held Sunday, Sept. 13 at 11 a. m. This will be in observance of the 139th anniversary of the writing of "The Star Spangled Banner" by Francis Scott Key.

The service, commemorating National Anthem Day, has been arranged in cooperation with the Society of the war of 1812.

There will be displayed a replica of the flag which was flying over Fort McHenry on that day. Each person attending the service will receive a reproduced copy of the original manuscript by Key.

Pennsylvania being the first state in the union to establish Sept. 14 of each year as National Anthem Day, Governor John S. Fine has proclaimed Monday, the 14th, this year, as National Anthem Day. He has directed that the American flag and the flag of Pennsylvania be flown from all public grounds and buildings on that day.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

All of them wax old as a garment; as a vesture shalt thou change them, and they shall be changed.—Ps. 102:26.

The sensible universe will ultimately be destroyed scientist tell us, but the psalmist was sure God's people would endure after the world had been changed and forgotten. We hava a glorious future.

Unbearable Peace

Mentally flattened under the pressures of city life, a citizen of Hinsdale, Ill., prepares to flee to the quiet of the Kentucky hills. He is in revolt against "thrashing around all day to spend the night in some close apartment."

Our harassed hero is not alone in his allergy to the annoyances of modern urban existence. Most persons feel the urge at one time or another to get away from it all, belaboring themselves for endur- the daily grind when nature has lavished thousands of sequestered retreats upon the land.

Why, then, do not more persons follow the example of the Hinsdale man and take to the hills? For the simple reason that they know by instinct and experience that however unbearable the familiar setting may become, they would be yearning to return to it before the breath of the pines had cleared the gas fumes from their lungs.

If anyone wondered what became of Atcheson's son-in-law who is alleged to have contributed $400 to the Hiss defense fund, the State Department defiantly announces that he is still on the payroll.

Triangle Advocated For Every Kitchen

By INEZ ROBB

NEW YORK, Sept. 4 (INS)—I have just met a high-type woman who says no home is complete without an eternal triangle.

Since she said it should be strictly confined to the kitchen, I at first thought she was making a pitch to revive the old-fashioned ice man.

However, Miss Doris Piper of Cincinnati looked askance at this sensible suggestion and said the triangle of which she speaks is strictly limited to kitchen stove, refrigerator and dsih-washing center.

Miss Piper, an expert on kitchen design, says women would add ten, maybe 20 years to theri respective lives and take a load off their collective feet if they would arrange a good fast triangle between stove, refrigerator and dish-washer (electric or human) when planning the family kitchen.

The tread mill between those three kitchen staples can be a primrose path if arrange in a tight triangle, Miss Piper said when we met recently.

"With such an efficient arrangement, a woman can save some of the best years of her life for other things than kitchen routine," said this handsome young woman who wrote a college thesis on kitchen planning and kited it into a career.

Miss Piper is a woman after my own heart in that she firmly believes that a kitchen should be a kitchen and not a "work area" in one of these new-fangled "free-flowing" houses in which you can't tell where the kitchen begins and the living room ends.

"The little woman needs a change of rooms," said Miss Piper firmly.

"When she gets out of the kitchen she ought to know it by something more than a chalk mark on the floor.

"Modern architecture is all very well, but I don't want just a plant divider or a combination bookcase and television set beween me and the rest of the house. When a woman leaves the kitchen, she ought to be able to slam the door, if that's the way she feels."

Miss Piper recently read an article on one of these new houses where the kitchen flows into the living room or vice versa. In it, she ran across a sinister statement saying, "The American housewife need no longer be alone in her kitchen."

This kitchen expert is of the opinion that a lot of women are only too happy to be all alone in the kitchen with the lamb stew and a good soap opera. Lots of women, she feels, don't like to cook with a crowd under foot or with audience participation from the bleachers.

"I don't want anyone reading the cookbook over my shoulder," I said firmly. "I want to be alone when making with the hamburgers."

Miss Piper feels there is a time and place for sociability in the kitchen, if the chief cook and bottle washer feels like it. Maybe a handy breakfast nook where the family won't fall into the electric mixer.

A "sociable" kitchen, including eternal triangle, should be about 14 by 16 feet in size, says this expert. A strictly "working" kitchen needs 10 by 12 feet of space. And the all-purpose kitchen with eternal triangle, freezing unit, laundry space and snack area demands 16 x 20 feet.

"What about the kitchenette?" I whispered, scarce daring to mention this hideous city invention.

Miss Piper sniffed. Most of 'em, in her opinion, aren't even fit for a triangle. Hardly enough space, in fact, to kiss the cook.

Your Birthday by STELLA

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 4—Born today, you are a friend to all the world. You seem to radiate kindliness and bring happiness and joy to all those who come within your orbit. The stars have given you a versatile nature and you are capable of turning your hand to almost anything. In fact, you must learn concentration to a single objective if you are to become outstanding in any field of endeavor. You have talent in mechanics, mathematics and science. You also enjoy art and music and may have some creative talent along this line which may not show itself unless you consciously develop it.

You have a strong will and when you want something, you are quite determined to get it. You are not one who can be pushed into doing anything. You know what you want and intend to get it—but in your own way and in your own time. Your opinions are strong and you stick to them, once your mind is made up.

You have considerable self-confidence and should be able to make a successful career in business. You have the ability to spend wisely and save your money without seeming to pinch pennies. You women are fond of a beautiful home and cannot be happy unless your surroundings are pleasant, harmonious and congenial. You have definite ability as an interior decorator. Your affections are deep and you would make a fine wife and mother. But you would probably need to discipline yourself to discipline your children! You are inclined to be too easy-going and to make unnecessary sacrifices for those you love.

To find what the stars have in store for tomorrow, select your birthday star and read the corresponding paragraph. Let your birthday star be your daily guide.

"WASHINGTON REPORT"

by Fulton Lewis, Jr.

(Copyright, 1953, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

BERLIN, Sept. 4 — The obvious prosperity of West Germany is a major factor in the election now but three days hence. The election has been fought out here among three major political parties with modern campaign techniques not unlike those we use at home.

Harvest hands are at work bringing in a record crop that tops anything seen since the end of World War II. Vacationing factory hands and small shopkeepers a half million strong are returning from France, the Lowlands and England, where for the first time since the end of the war they had the cash and freedom to travel beyond the borders of West Berlin. Thousands of others spent their paid vacation time hiking or cycling down the lush river valleys.

They are mostly back now, however, for the serious business at hand — the vote of confidence or a rejection of the government of tough, pro-west Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

LEWIS, JR.

The chancellor is supremely confident but hard at work delivering the final three or four of the 45 major campaign speeches he had set as his election goal.

Adenauer's chief opposition comes from the Socialists, led by Erich Ollenhauer. In 1949 the Socialists polled almost 7,500,000 votes. Ollenhauer has labeled Adenauer the "chancellor of the Allies," and his criticism is generally leveled at the delays in obtaing German unity. The Socialists, however, are not pro-Russian, very few in West Germany are today.

Much of the sting from Adenauer's opposition was removed when the East Germans rioted. First it confirmed Adenauer's unerring opposition to dealing with the Communists in East Germany, and, second, it enabled him to offer assistance from the west as well as American aid for the hungry and mistreated across the Berlin border. Even the Socialists now admit that there are more problems to unification than the mere drafting of a proclamation.

Thirty-three million Germans have voting franchise for the 1953 elections. If 85 per cent turn out at the polls there will be few complaints from German republic officials. At stake are 484 seats in the Bundestag.

At present there are 186 anti-Adenauer Bundestag deputies. Adenauer has a working coalition of 216 deputies, including his own Christian Democrats, free Democrats and the German party.

The Socialists with 130 deputies are supported by the Bavarians and Pacifists, the Refugee party, Communists and deputies from some 20 splinter parties.

If the line-up of political parties in Free Germany ended here a reporter's job would be simpler. There are, however, 65 different political parties in the Hustings trying to persuade the Germans to increase their strength in the Bundestag. Dozens of them will vanish on September 6 if West Germans vote "ja" for Adenauer.

Despite the prosperity of West German agriculture and industry there are 1,000,000 unemployed and many more millions enduring a sub-standard existence. This is no fault of the German republic under Adenauer's guidance, although he accepts the criticism and the responsibility of improving the lot of these unfortunates. Most are refugees—some 10,000,000 of them who have dropped down on a tight economy to seek freedom and food.

Much has been done for the refugees. They are dissatisfied, however, and are organizing politically behind the leadership of Waldemar Kraft. His deputies now hold three seats in the Bundestag. The refugee party is expected to gain considerably in the September 6 election, but largely at the expense of the Socialist bloc.

With the latest wave of refugees from East Germany the total is now more than 2,000,000 and I doubt if the German federal republic or the U. S. A. or any combination of free nations could handle all of the problems connected with this poverty-laden influx of humans without acquiring enemies in the process.

It is against this backdrop of human and economic problems that the 77-year-old Konrad Adenauer, labeled by Sir Winston Churchill as Germany's greatest statesman, goes to the polls three days hence.

Adenauer has stated, and I can find no reason here to doubt him, that the "future of Germany depends on the outcome of this election."

TEXT

Doing the will of God from the heart.—Ephesians 6:6b

Yesterday we spoke of a burning heart sending us out with the message of light and love. Our verse today tells us to do His will from the heart as servants of Christ.

Jesus said that He came not to be ministered unto but to minister. The word minister means to serve. We, then as servants of Christ are His ministers. To be a true servant we must try to please the Master and not others who are not our masters.

For this reason then because our hearts do burn within us with His love and a desire to serve Him, we do it all with our heart and mind and strength. Paul, who wrote our text today, also wrote in Colossians 3:22 that we should serve Him with a singleness of heart. In other words, with no duplicity nor ulterior motives, but only to make Christ known.

Because Christ has given us a new heart and eternal life we owe Him all we have. We then say—not my will but thine, Lord, be done. This is doing the will of God from the heart.

Christian, examine yourself and see if your service is selfish or according to His will.

Relief Forecast

served by the Langhorne Spring Water company.

Level Drops

W. C. Brubage, superintendent of the company, said the underground static water level has been dropping fast because of the prolonged lack of rain.

"It's good for you, psychologically, to believe this heat onslaught will eventually end," a local physician, member of the Bristol Medical Society, told the Courier as preface to a more substantial list of tips on how to beat the oven-like temperatures.

Cultivating such an attitude is effective, the doctor says, because it will give you the forbearance to suffer through another steaming day.

At the same time, Coroner Russell J. T. Ferris and his deputy, Dr. William L. Goldfarb, asked local residents not to neglect to count their blessings.

In a point statement they said they were happy to report that Bucks County had been extremely fortunate in that no deaths attributable to the heat have been reported to the coroner's office since the onslaught of the 100-plus temperatures.

Common Sense

The physician said his tips are all based on common-sense practices, and may seem transparently simple, but the trick is to heed them all at once if you expect to get any relief from the heat.

First, he says, get plenty of rest. Don't permit the what's-the-use-I-can't-get-to-sleep-anyway attitude keep you from hitting the sack at the same time every night in spite of the hot-box atmosphere.

Avoid direct rays of the sun. If you must go through the broiler be sure your head is adequately covered.

Avoid reflection of heat from such objects as the wall of a building or the sides of a car. A definite percentage of the misery you feel is wafted in your direction by such flat surfaces.

Wear light clothing loosely. Men, leave your ties in your wardrobe chests. You may stand on niceties when it gets a bit cooler. The doctor says women, too, should break away from any binding restrictions.

Don't Walk

If you have to make a more than moderate trip on foot—don't. As little walking as possible is an important part of the doctor's plan.

Supplement the natural amounts of salt in your food by one or two salt tablets daily. A sudden drop of salt in the system can cause heat exhaustion and prostration.

Don't neglect to eat three meals a day, but make them all light. Avoid energy-producing foods that create heat, such as hot-cooked meals, excessively rich foods such as pastries, rich sauces, and so forth.

Be sure your fluid intake daily is adequate.

Avoid drafts to an overheated body.

Eat light foods frequently rather than one or two heavy meals.

What are you doing, mister?
Putting a telephone cable under ground.
What's a telephone cable?
It's a lot of wires in one.
But aren't those a lot of wires, too?
They'll [illegible] down when the cable's in.
Why?
Because this cable will carry more messages than all those wires put together. Gives less trouble, too. Storms can't get at it.
That's neat. Did you think up the idea?
No, Son. But telephone people are always trying to find better ways to do things.
Why?
Better ways to do things help us give people better telephone service and keep costs down.

Pennsbury Falcons Back from Camp; Ready for Tilt

L. MAKEFIELD TWP., Sept. 4 — The football Falcons of Pennsbury High School are home from a week's encampment in Newton, N. J., getting set to face Neshaminy High in their season opener Sept. 18.

Coaches Jim Egli and Joe Gavin have 41 potential gridironers on their hands, including many from the 1952 squad, and some boys starting their third season.

A newcomer, Guy Curtis, is assigned as fullback, with the halfback position sought by four third-year men, Mickey Bray, Jim Baziow, Dan Felver and Mort Caffey. Tom MacMillan and Paul Birodano are both shooting to succeed Tony Mazzocchi at quarterback.

Likely ends are seniors Bill Loch, and Averill Queen. They divided the job last year with Don Doheny, who graduated, and Sam McIntyre, who transferred to another school. At the tackles it is Ronnie Pope, and Bill Lynn. Pope worked with graduated John Ellis last year and also Joe Kellet, who has left school; Lynn is a new face recently moved into the area. A three-way fight at the guards has Ray Hill and Ken Tigar, with Donald Dickey. Hill was a regular last year, while Tigar divided time with Benny Bishop and Bill Solarski. Bishop graduated and Solarski has not reported to practice. At center the Falcons have no problem with Mike Baldovski returning.

Beavers may be legally trapped in Pennsylvania next year from Feb. 15 to March 6, 1954, with a season limit of four.

Bristol High Eleven Preps for 1st Game

Twenty-seven prospective Bristol High School football players are working out under Coach Chick D'Angelo, getting ready to open the season here in a match with Souderton High Friday night, Sept. 11.

Speedster Larry Cohen, 100-yard dash champion of Lower Bucks County, is slated for the backfield, with Dom Sottile, Alfred Caucci from last year. Newcomers behind the line are Wayne Bloodgood, Eddie Jones, Paul Davis and Mike Snyder. Coach D'Angelo has switched Ed Conca from guard to quarterback, with Teddy Caldwell as understudy.

Line aspirants are Tom Bresia, squad veteran, tackle, with Jim Potana; ends, Russ Johnson and Bob Michael; guards, Bob Rago and Billy Harbison, center, Frank Manzo; and tackle, Bob Francis.

Other linemen are ends, Caro Trasatti and John Kopack; tackles, Tom Corrigan, Bob Amodio, Jimmy Vanwright, Bob Dilisso and Tom Senacore; guard, Bob Capriotti, and centers Fenton Larrisey and John Lewis.

Bucks Guardsmen Unaffected by Cuts

Warrant Officer Frank W. Walton of Company D, 111th Infantry Regimental Combat Team, Pennsylvania National Guard, today proudly said the $75,000 budget cut facing Philadelphia's Guardsmen will not affect Bucks county's two units, Doylestown and Sellersville.

"We used to get a $500 appropriation from the Bucks County Commissioners," said Warrant Officer Walton. "Last year, for the first time, we received $750 which is provided for legally for the National Guard in the county."

Neshaminy Gridders Aim To Keep Laurels

LANGHORNE, Sept. 4 — The Neshaminy High School Redskins, gridiron champions of Lower Bucks County Conference last year, aim to hold to their laurels in the season opening Sept. 18 in a match with Pennsbury High.

Graduation has stripped Coach Harry Franks of many valuable members of his championship team, including Al Hofmann, Fermen Lex, Tony Peale, Steve Cloak, Gary Latham, Ray Brodie and Lou Maurer. This year, however, Coach Franks is adding some promising newcomers to his remaining veterans.

Returnees

Back from last year's champion squad are fullback, Ken Kauffman; halfback, Don Cameron; guards, Tommy Lauther and Eric Latham, and Bill Shapcott. Others from last year who were not letter winners are backs Joe Moronese, Richard Wilt and Norman Bailey; and linemen Bruce Lindenfelser, Stan Covington, Robert Hurst and Tom Buckley.

Comers

Up from last year's junior high team, which won four of five games, are ends, Monty Ahlum, Stephen Wieckoski and Bill Crowley; tackles, Tom Haedrick and David Bertram; guards, John Kutger and Howard Johnson, and backs, Ned Moyer, Bill Barrett, Jim Cummings, Joe Devlin, Gary Nielson and Bob Armstrong.

Others reporting are linemen John Harvey, Joseph LaPenta, William Simmers, Bob Rothenback, Mark Jolliffe, Tom Moffett, Charles Kersey, Ronnie Moyer, Wayne Kramer and Franky Ferguson, and backs, Donald Seiz, Bob Heim, Dennis Page, Jay May, Ronnie Smith and Fred Sangillo.

'Cycle Competition Starts Tomorrow

LANGHORNE, Sept. 4—The 100 Mile National Motorcycle Championship, sponsored by the Middle Atlantic Motorcycle Dealers' Association will get under way at 9 a. m. tomorrow at the Langhorne Speedway.

The Experts, Novices and Amateurs will practice until noon. The Amateurs will begin qualifying for the Sunday sprint championships at noon and at 2 p. m. the Novice championships will take place. The Expert time trials, determining starting positions for Sunday's 100-mile race, will follow.

A total of 50 of the country's broadsliders will compete in the only 100-mile grind sanctioned by the American Motorcycle Association. Local names among the 50 include James Gregory, Croydon; Stan Meyers, Doylestown, and Al Wilcox, Trenton.

The local boys will be facing such speedsters as Dick Fisher, defending champion; Dick Klamfoth, Graveport, Ohio, and Bill Miller, Mountville.

Plumber is Fined For Code Violations

Alexander Barney Sr., 43, of Lakeside Park, Trenton, N. J., was fined $25 and $9 costs yesterday by Justice of the Peace Edward Lynn for three violations of the borough plumbing code.

Plumbing Inspector Maurice Delker said Barney failed to get plumbing permits on three air conditioning installations he made.
